

XENOLITH

In another dimension, David missed by less than two feet; but still, given the negligible gravity there, that slung stone ended up 1000 miles and counting off course by sundown.

Raised superstitious, Goliath believed it would return to kill him in his sleep. He asked David for the angle of incidence, did some quick trig, and tore off northwards, where, for years he's been ripping fistfuls of forest from Russia's open pores to David giggling.

Campus Broadsided is an independent creative project affiliated with Broadsided Press. See all locations: broadsidedpress.org/campus

Campus Broadsided @ UAF

Artist Lucas cheek is a BFA graduate from UAF. He specializes in digital painting and design. Poet Eric-Alain Parker is a candidate for an MFA in Screenwriting from UAF.